Introduction to Emergency Response First Aid

In a life-threatening emergency, having the right tools close at hand can make all the difference. Emergency Response First Aid is designed to provide everyone with the essential items needed to respond quickly and effectively, whether they have formal first aid training or not.

This range of life-saving products supports people in high-stress situations. From severe bleeds to cardiac arrests, these products help responders act with speed and confidence until professional medical assistance arrives.

Who Needs Emergency Response First Aid?

Emergencies can happen in any environment, and being prepared is essential. Emergency Response First Aid helps ensure people are ready to act when it matters most.

This range is ideal for:

- Businesses and workplaces, where employee and visitor safety is a top priority
- Councils and public spaces, providing accessible first aid support in community settings
- Schools, sports clubs, and education providers, where the safety of children and staff is essential
- Individuals and families, offering peace of mind at home, while travelling, or in outdoor environments

No matter the setting, Emergency Response First Aid gives people the tools and confidence to step in and potentially save a life.

Protection of Premises Act

On 3 April 2025, the Protection of Premises Act received Royal Assent, marking the introduction of the Protection of Premises Act 2025. This legislation is intended to improve protective security and organisational preparedness across the UK.

The new Act requires certain public venues and events to ensure steps have been taken to prepare for potential terrorist attacks and get ready to help keep people safe in the event of an attack. In addition, certain larger premises and events will be required to consider and, where appropriate, take steps to reduce their vulnerability to acts of terrorism.

Using a tourniquet

Tourniquets are for use on limbs to prevent a life-threatening bleed and should only be used when the bleed can't be stopped or slowed through other means.

STEP 1

Put the tourniquet around the injured limb at least 2-3 inches above the wound against the skin if possible. The tourniquet may be applied and secured over clothing. If bleed is below the knee or elbow, place it above the joint.

STEP 2

Pull band tightly and fasten it back on itself all the way around the limb, but not over the rod clips and tighten it as much as you can.

STEP 3

Twist the rod in one direction to increase the pressure until the bleeding has stopped.

STEP 4

Secure the rod inside the clip so it doesn't unwind. Secure with the velcro strap. Write on the time the tourniquet was applied. Do not leave on for longer than two hours.
